

Our independence.

Economit, the IT consultancy with a key ethos; to solely provide independent IT advice to businesses to ensure they maximise the use of IT.

We combat technology providers who charge a little too much or recommend a solution they want to provide rather than what the business may need.

IT decisions can be difficult and an ever growing expense. In 2011 Economit was born out of the requirement to provide 'an outsiders' view, third party opinion or independent advice on the performance of existing technology suppliers. Since then we've grown into one of the only guaranteed independent IT Director Services in the UK.

Our service is the most transparent in the IT industry, we deliver independent, impartial advice and consultancy. IT is no longer just a back office function, it's an enabler for greater business success. We pride ourselves on being able to deliver the kind of technology advice that will allow your business to make informed IT decisions that positively impact the businesses objectives.

Our consultants manage your IT function, ensure your budget is appropriately governed and are skilled in creative thinking having a proven experience delivering ideas that result in increased revenue for the business. IT shouldn't be 'one size fits all', we believe in choice. It is our independence that gives you the peace of mind that we're working on your side, as your IT Director.

As an innovator in the clock industry it is vital that we constantly move forward as technology progresses and it is key for us to be at the forefront of this progression in terms of our manufacturing processes and procedures. As our outsourced IT Director, Economit have undertaken and been responsible for our technology interests which has enabled us to reduce operational IT costs and risk. We value the independence of Economit highly because we trust that when they make recommendations, they are made with the best interests of Smith of Derby.

Develop an independent IT strategy. ►

We'll produce a tailored IT strategy for your business that transforms the way you utilise technology, maximising efficiency and most of all focusing on increasing your return on investment.

IT assessments. ▲

You can't adequately advise a business around its use of technology without understanding everything about it. Economit IT assessments are not just about the technology, we need to understand the people, processes and aspirations of the business. Unlike typical IT Audits, we build a complete picture.

During the assessment we will assess your:

IT infrastructure

IT procurement

Licensing

Landline Communications

Mobile Communications

IT support providers

Hardware

IT security

Software

Utilisation

Project manage the implementation. ▼

The successful implementation of our recommendations can hinge on effective project management. We don't just create a strategy and leave you to get on with it, we manage any recommended changes so you don't have to, dealing with all providers on your behalf, giving you total peace of mind.

Making you an informed client. ▼

As your outsourced IT Director we continue to manage your IT interest. Keeping senior management informed on all technology engagement in the business, leading technology related teams and managing vendor relationships. Simply, we do the work of a full time IT Director on a part time basis.

Why work with us?

Pioneers in the world of technology are constantly developing new ideas. As a business using IT you should be aware of this ever changing innovation, something that not all technology providers like to promote. We often get asked 'why don't you sell IT products?' Our response, 'the question isn't why don't we sell products, it's why would we sell products?' Typically IT providers limit themselves to only a small piece of all of this ongoing innovation, it's our job to make sure you get all the information you need.

At Economit we deliver independent, impartial IT consultancy. You could say we're breaking down the barriers to technology that other IT firms are trying to build.
